

+ SPECIAL HOME+LIVING GUIDE starting on page 22

FALL 2017

CityDog

SPECIAL
HOME

+ LIVING GUIDE

BED, BATH + BEYOND FOR BOWZER

DELUXE DIGS
palladian
WELLNESS
achy joints

US $5.95 CDN $6.95 DISPLAY UNTIL DEC '17

www.citydogmagazine.com

POOCH-FRIENDLY PALLADIAN

Sleep with David Bowie. Wake up with Leonardo DiCaprio. Strike a pose with Jimi Hendrix. From the star-studded pillows in the pet-friendly rooms, to whimsical portraits of some of Seattle's most notable icons, you and your pooch will feel like puparazzi at the Palladian Hotel.

Not only that, but Rover will feel like the rock star he is with his very own in-room Honor Bar(k) Menu, with items like YumYum Chicken Bites, Bark-brew Dog Beer and Fetch Me Noir Wine for Dogs (non-alcoholic, of course). Once satiated, he can relax on the comfy dog bed provided by the Palladian or curl up with you on the king size bed, complete with crisp white bedding and signature throw pillows featuring regally-garbed celebrities that beg to be posted on your pup's own Instagram page. The room also features terry cloth robes, a yoga mat, WiFi and ample outlets for charging devices.

The quintessential boutique hotel offers a mash up of vintage and modern décor, with two social salons: Shaker + Spear, a chic seafood restaurant, and Pennyroyal, a corner bar with a focus on classic cocktails and local spirits. Belly up to the bar with Bowzer and order one of Pennyroyal's signature libations like the Foul Mouthed Hula Master, featuring a house rum blend, Giffard's Banane de Bresil, lime, mint and Scrappy's grapefruit bitters. Small bites include Dungeness crab toast and avocado, Rainier beer steamed clams, and spicy fried squid with red aioli. In the restaurant (sorry, no four-legged friends allowed), the menu features Pacific Northwest favorites like alderwood smoked salmon with Caesar salad and rock fish and rock shrimp with squid ink potato gnocchi and Walla Walla onions. Yum!

Located in the heart of Seattle's Belltown neighborhood, locals may remember the Palladian as the former Calhoun Hotel. Although the building had fallen into disrepair since it was opened in 1910, it still had all of the makings for a second life—most notably the namesake Palladian windows that add to the hotel's charm. Today, the Palladian is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and throughout the reinvented, edgy space, you'll find nods to Seattle's history: the raw wood harkens back to the timber industry, the shimmering accents are a reminder of the gold rush, nautical knot art recalls the all-important ports, and the paintings that hang in the lobby feature some of Seattle's more famous faces (like Bill Gates, Kelsey Grammer, Dave Matthews and Jimi Hendrix) reimagined as Napoleon-era heroes. The grandeur of the old — like original terrazzo flooring in the lobby — mixed with the new creates the kind of atmosphere that travelers, two- and four-legged alike, will find irresistible.

Top, from left: Belly up to the bar to enjoy a signature cocktail at Pennyroyal; Avey strikes a pose with Jimi Hendrix. Above: A special treat at the Palladian is the Honor Bar(k) Menu, packed with a wide selection of items especially for your pooch.

Above, from left: Built during the Prohibition, the Palladian's Pennyroyal has a speakeasy vibe; Avey poses with her celebrity friends.

Also irresistible, is the hotel's proximity to Seattle landmarks like Pike Place Market, the waterfront and Moore Theatre. The hotel is also just steps away from Regrade Park, located at 3rd and Bell. This 0.3-acre off-leash park may be small, but it provides plenty of space for your pooch to mingle with fellow city-savvy dogs. 🐾

More Information

Palladian Hotel
2000 2nd Avenue
Seattle, Washington
206.448.1111; palladianhotel.com

Visit citydogmagazine.com for more photos from our visit to the Palladian.

HOUSE OF WEE

PET PHOTOGRAPHY FOR THE CHARMING AND MISCHIEVOUS

by Amelia Soper Photography

WWW.HOUSEOFWEE.COM | AMY@THEHOUSEOFWEE.COM

